Report of Library Trustees

For the Year ending December 31, 1914

The annual report is herewith submitted:—

Our increased circulation is a direct testimonial to the fact that people have had more time for reading, owing to the unusual business depression. In gaining the attention of the public the library has done much by way of advertising.

Through the courtesy of the manager of the "Gem" Theatre, two of our advertising slides have been run at each performance, and the results have been most pleasing. Circular letters have been sent to a number of business men, calling attention to new books of interest in their business or to their employees. Lists of books in the library covering the subject under discussion have been sent to clubs and schools for distribution. The commercial department of the High School has duplicated many of these lists, demonstrating the practical side of co-operation between school and library.

Our first real bulletin was issued in April and contained a list of books added to the library from April, 1913, to April, 1914, making a sixteen-page pamphlet. It was enthusiastically received, and the entire edition was exhausted within three weeks of publication. The bulletin did splendid work by way of advertising the resources of the library, and it is to be regretted that the expense prevents a more frequent issue.

Informal talks on the use of the library and reference books have been given to the schools desiring such help, and the results have been so satisfactory that plans have been made to continue the work systematically.

Through the courtesy of the manager of the North End Drug Store books have been left there for collection. It was hoped this would prove a convenience for people living in North Leominster, but the privilege has been little used. The work will continue, however, in the hope that another year the deposit station may prove more popular.

In June a personal letter was sent to each member of the graduating class from the Industrial School and the High School, calling attention to the practical value of the library outside of school life and assuring a continued interest in the welfare of the individual.

"Vocation Week" was given over to the display of all our books relating to vocations, and the young people, with their parents, were invited to examine the collection, and at the end of the week the books were again put into circulation. While there is no way of gauging the direct result of the experiment, we believe it is well worth repeating.

We again gave a reception for the teachers early in the school year and find this quite the most practical method of bringing about the necessary co-operation between the schools and the library. So many new suggestions were exchanged we have every reason to believe the library will be more useful because of the better understanding.

The picture collection continues to grow, and much valuable material has been contributed by Mrs. J. A. Lovering, Miss Alice G. Chandler of Lancaster, and many other interested friends. The teaching value of the collection has been increased by the addition of object lesson cards showing the manufacture of many staple articles from the first step to the finished product. We are indebted to Mr. F. Percy Kehew for his assistance in collecting material to illustrate the manufacture of paper at the Wheelwright Paper Co., at North Leominster. An effort has been made to illustrate other Leominster industries, and we hope to have a number to report later.

Before Christmas we held our usual exhibition of inexpensive books suitable for Christmas gifts, and the suggestions were very much appreciated by many.

For several months we have sent books to the schools, for home use, and the fact that these books had a circulation of over three thousand shows how many children live too far from the library to make use of the advantages and privileges offered. At District Number 6 Miss Elsie Powers has carried books for the entire neighborhood, circulating them from the school, and her work has been thoroughly appreciated.

The library has continued to send books to the Town Farm, Home for Old Ladies, Fire Station, etc., and we would be very glad to extend the privilege to clubs or any responsible organization on request.

In May the Massachusetts Library Commission loaned this library a collection of fifty Italian books. These books have given unlimited pleasure to the Italian population of the town and another year we hope to buy books to take the place of the ones borrowed, for the unusual interest and the keen appreciation of our patrons would warrant this attention to their needs.

We were fortunate in securing a number of new French books early in the season. The books are very much in demand, but we have discontinued our subscription to the French magazine for lack of interest.

Through the kindness of a few friends the library has been well supplied with flowers and plants throughout the year. Mr. Wilbur Moore has been particularly kind in furnishing wild flowers from early spring to late fall. People using the library so thoroughly enjoy the flowers we are glad to give thanks for those received, and beg future favors from our many friends.

The Woman's Educational Association of Boston has again loaned sets of pictures of educational value and they have been enjoyed by many visitors to the art room.

It is particularly pleasing to note that the library is being used more and more for self education, not only by the student but by the business man and the laborer, and we have every reason to believe that the library is being recognized as a real force in daily life as well as one of the town's assets.

Respectfully submitted,

FLORENCE E. WHEELER, Librarian.

MUSEUM

The interest in local history continues and a number of schools have visited the library for talks on the history of the town illustrated by the relics and objects of interest in the museum.

The following gifts have been received: A sermon published in Portsmouth in 1834 from F. O. Petts; photograph of a slave girl from Mr. S. S. Barker.

The collection of books printed in Leominster has been increased through several friends. Dr. F. L. Dunham loaned Young Ladies' Arithmetic printed here in 1797, and Philosophy of Love, 1797. Miss Elizabeth Lincoln loaned Domestic Medicine printed in 1804, New England Dairy and Almanac, 1809, and a copy of the newspaper The Telescope, Jan. 9, 1800. Miss Carrie Wilson presented Serious Reflections, printed here in 1812, and Mr. P. K. Foley of Boston presented Thanksgiving sermon preached by Rev. Francis Gardner, Nov. 19, 1795, in Leominster; Letter from an Eminent Minister of the Church of Scotland printed here in 1799, and an autograph letter by Daniel Adams, who wrote the Scholar's Arithmetic and the Understanding Reader, both valuable school books, and published in Leominster. This letter contains much autobiographical material and is a most interesting addition to our collection of books and pamphlets printed here between 1796 and 1813.

This collection is so valuable and so interesting we hope anyone owning copies of the early imprints will join us in our efforts to make a complete collection. Either gifts or loans will be very much appreciated.

In 1882 money for the museum was collected and $150 was deposited in the Leominster Savings Bank; $109.75 was withdrawn between 1884 and 1899; $7.50 was received this year for the sale of duplicate pamphlets, giving a balance of $149.52.

Respectfully submitted,

FLORENCE E. WHEELER, Curator.

Report of Selectmen

For the Fiscal Year ending December 31, 1914.

The financial accounts of the various departments of the town for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1914, appear in detail in their several reports.

The Board of Selectmen recommend that this year $34,000.00 be appropriated for the highways, an increase of $4,000.00 over the amount appropriated in 1914.

There are in this town over 100 miles of streets, and with the constantly increasing automobile travel, the cost of maintenance becomes greater each year. Good roads are essential to the growth and prosperity of a town, and are one of the strongest factors in the building up of a progressive municipality. Your Board of Selectmen are optimistic, and thoroughly believe Leominster will be at the front when the general prosperity, that is sure to come, becomes a reality, and recommend that all reasonable means be adopted which will advance the prosperity of the town, thereby promoting the general welfare of its citizens.

A problem that confronts the town at the present time is the disposal of its sewerage, now emptying into the Nashua river. The city of Fitchburg intends to complete its sewerage system during the present year, after which time none of its sewerage will empty into the river, and the town of Leominster will then probably be obliged to take action.

The present sewerage system is so constructed that practically all of the sewerage is or can be conducted to the “Divoll farm” on Mechanic street, said farm being owned by the town, and bought for the sewerage disposal.

It is the opinion of this board that during the present year investigations should be made and a report presented to the town as to different methods that are in operation elsewhere, and a system be recommended, together with the estimated cost of installing the same.

Your Selectmen have drawn fifty-two orders, amounting to $511,987.37, as follows:—

Report of the Fire Department

For the Financial Year ending December 31, 1914.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:—

Gentlemen: During the year ending December 31, 1914, we have made some changes in this department whereby the efficiency has been increased. The department has responded to 257 alarms during the past twelve months as follows: 74 bell, 160 still, and 23 automatic.

The Board of Engineers would recommend that the town pay its firemen for the ensuing year as follows: Chief $28.00 per week; each assistant engineer $250.00 per year; clerk $50.00 per year; permanent captains $19.25 per week; permanent firemen $18.55 per week; driver of automobile truck, mechanical man, $20.00 per week; call captains of hose and ladder trucks $160.00 per year; call clerks of hose and ladder trucks $160.00 per year; enginemen $160.00 per year each; other members of the fire department $150.00 per year each.

We would recommend that the town purchase an automobile combination and pumping engine. We feel that this machine is needed, as in some localities in town we have to use forced pressure in order to get efficient service.

We would recommend the appropriation of $22,000.00 for this department for the year 1915.

F. A. RUSSELL, Chief.

Report of Inspector of Animals

For the Financial Year ending December 31, 1914.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:—

Gentlemen: I have the honor of submitting to you my report as Inspector of Animals for the town of Leominster, for the year ending December 31, 1914.

On January 1, 1914, I received from the Commissioner of Animal Industry two letters of instruction regarding the annual inspection of farm animals and the premises on which they are kept. You will see by reading these letters, which are printed herewith, that the duties of your inspector have increased to nearly fifty per cent. more than they were three years ago. Every animal receives an individual physical examination, the premises are inspected regarding their sanitary condition and, if thought necessary, suggestions are made that will improve the condition. All this is recorded in duplicate, the original left with the owner, the carbon copy retained, from which to make the report to the Commissioner and to refer to in making the second inspection regarding changes that were suggested.

DIRECTIONS TO INSPECTORS OF ANIMALS

In accordance with section 17, chapter 90, of the Revised Laws, inspectors of animals are hereby directed to make a general inspection of all neat cattle, sheep, swine and goats found within the limits of their several cities and towns, such inspection to commence January 15 and to be completed on or before the first day of March, 1914.

If upon examination the inspectors find such animals to be free from contagious disease, they will give the owner or person in charge thereof a certificate of health, as provided for in section 18 of chapter 90 of the Revised Laws; but if an inspector has reason to suspect the presence of any contagious disease among any species of domestic animals, he is to quarantine such animal or animals and send duplicate copy of such quarantine to the Commissioner of Animal Industry.

Contagious diseases under the provisions of section 28 of chapter 90 of the Revised Laws include glanders, farcy, mange, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, tuberculosis, Texas fever, foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, hog cholera, rabies, anthrax or anthracoid diseases, sheep scab and actinomycosis.

Inspectors of animals are hereby directed to inform owners of premises when in their opinion conditions are not up to the requirements and to give instruction to have the same changed or improved.

Books will be forwarded (Form No. 1) for carrying out the provisions of sections 17 and 24 of chapter 90 of the Revised Laws. Ten questions may be answered by checking the word "Yes" or "No"; that is, if the answer to the question is "Yes" a check mark or cross is to be made on or through the word "Yes." Four questions may be answered by checking the proper word in the question; that is, question No. 9 reads: "Is stable clean, unclean, or filthy?"—if stable is clean, the word "clean" is to be checked or crossed, if stable is unclean the word "unclean" is to be checked or crossed, etc. Two questions, Nos. 10 and 16, require the answers to be written out in full; these refer to the disposal of manure and to the nature of improvements made in either the buildings or surroundings during the past year.

It is sincerely hoped that the inspection this spring will be a thorough one, and it is requested that the answers to the questions be carefully made.

The books necessary for this inspection will be forwarded at once. Form No. 1 is to be returned to this office by pre-paid express as soon as inspection is completed.

FRED F. WALKER, Commissioner.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Office of Department of Animal Industry, State House, Boston.

To Inspectors of Animals:

I am sending you under separate cover material with which you are to record your findings during your annual inspection.

A new system is to be installed this year, dispensing with the black certificate book from which you have formerly supplied owners with certificates as to the health of their cattle. In its place you are furnished with a book similar in character to that on which your record of inspection is forwarded to this office. The book referred to you will use at the time you visit the premises, and in it you will make such report as the conditions you find justify.

You are furnished a supply of carbon paper, one sheet of which you will insert below the first page on which you mark your findings, thereby providing for two records being made at one time. The original record is to be left by you with the owner of the premises and cattle, together with a statement on your part advising such sanitary improvements as in your opinion are necessary. The carbon copy of this record you will keep, and from it make record in the regular blue covered book, with state record ink.

You will further advise the owners of the properties inspected on which you make recommendations for improvements that you will return, probably within two months, and that you will then expect to find that the recommendations you have made have been carried out. If this work has been done, you can assure them that their premises and cattle will be given a clean record so far as your report is concerned.

FRED FREELAND WALKER,
Commissioner of Animal Industry.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Contagious diseases under the provisions of section 28 of chapter 90 of the Revised Laws include glanders, farcy, mange, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, tuberculosis, Texas fever, foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, hog-cholera, rabies, anthrax or anthracoid disease, sheep scab, and actinomycosis.

Of these we have more to do with tuberculosis and hog-cholera than any of the others. Occasionally an animal is reported as showing symptoms of glanders or farcy, but this year all that have come to my notice have proved to be of a non-contagious nature.

Rabies, which exists to a greater or less extent in different localities of the United States, has not been seen in Leominster for several years.

Fortunately for the cattle owners of Leominster the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in the United States did not appear in Leominster, and it is hoped that the disease, the greatest menace to the cattle industry that has ever visited this country, will be effectually and thoroughly stamped out.

Hog-cholera, which throughout the community causes losses every year amounting to many millions of dollars, made its appearance here this year in a herd of 300 swine, and in a few weeks the losses amounted to upwards of $2,000. The remaining animals were treated by agents of the Department of Animal Industry, some receiving hog-cholera virus and serum, the so-called double treatment, and others serum only, the single treatment.

Since these animals were treated the losses have been less than five per cent., showing conclusively the value of the treatment when properly applied, and if followed up faithfully every year, together with proper disinfection of the premises, there is no reason but what hog-cholera can be controlled in a satisfactory manner.

In conclusion I wish to thank all who have in any way assisted me in the work of eradicating or controlling contagious diseases among animals.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. DODGE, D. V. S.,

Inspector of Animals.

Report of the School Committee

In presenting the annual report of the School Department the School Committee wishes to express its appreciation to the voters of Leominster for their liberality and generosity in providing funds for this most important department of the town government.

The tendency toward increased salaries in the teaching profession generally has made it necessary to materially increase the expenditure in this branch of the work, in order to secure and retain an efficient teaching force. Even with the present salary schedule in effect, we have lost the services of many desirable teachers for the reason that the Committee did not feel that it could offer as great remuneration as other communities.

In addition to these increases, the growth of the school population (138 over this time last year) has made necessary the employment of four additional teachers. These facts account for an expenditure of more than $3000 for the current year in excess of that of 1914.

The sum of $85,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of the public schools for the year ending December 31, 1914; the unexpended balance from the previous year was $1,621.96; receipts from all other sources amounted to $2,208.24, making a total sum available of $88,830.20.

Expenditures for the year amounted to $88,357.51, classified as follows:—

Salaries	$69,586 14
School supplies and text books	4,805 24
Maintenance and operating expenses	11,014 59
Alterations, permanent improvements and repairs	2,951 54 leaving an unexpended balance of $472.69. Figures in detail will be found on following pages.

At a special town meeting held October 30, 1914, the sum of $1000 was appropriated to begin the work of replacing the so-called dry system of toilets with modern flush closets. Of this sum $533.76 was expended in changing the system in the Field Primary School,—leaving a balance of $466.24, a sum not sufficient to complete the work in another building. The Committee believe that this work should be continued and recommend an additional appropriation of $1000 for this purpose.

In August Mr. Thomas E. Thompson, who had been on leave of absence for a year, resigned the position of Superintendent of Schools. After a thorough investigation, Dr. William H. Perry of Stonington, Conn., was selected from a list of about sixty candidates and unanimously elected by the Committee as Mr. Thompson's successor.

Dr. Perry's training, education and experience peculiarly fitted him in the opinion of the Board for the work in Leominster, and the results thus far attained seem to prove the wisdom of the Committee's choice. Dr. Perry assumed charge of the schools October 1st and since that period has devoted much of his time to supervision of the primary and grammar grades, standardizing and improving the courses of study in these grades.

Several of the schools are now overcrowded and some permanent method for relief of this condition must quickly be afforded.

The situation at North Leominster has been temporarily relieved by removing the third and fourth grades, consisting of 53 pupils, taught by Miss Prevear, to Kendall Hall. An appropriation of $500 was made at the special town meeting to cover cost of equipping an additional room at North Leominster. It was necessary to repair the furnace and install new plumbing in the building before it was made satisfactory for school purposes. This cost $289.49 and made a valuable permanent improvement to the building.

A new four-room building or a four-room addition to the Pierce School should be provided before the beginning of the next school year, and the Committee recommends that suitable action tending to this end be taken at the March town meeting.

Owing to the growth of the High School it became necessary to remove from that building one class of ninth grade pupils,—this was accomplished by transferring this class to one of the vacant rooms at Lancaster Street School,—and it will doubtless be necessary to transfer another class of this grade next September, probably to the Field Grammar building.

Two new rooms in the lower grades, in addition to the one at North Leominster, were opened this year, one at Lincoln and one at Lancaster Street School. Thus, practically every school room in town is now in use and many of them overcrowded.

Mr. Edward R. Clarke, principal of the High School for the past three and one-half years, resigned in December to accept a more lucrative position in Winthrop, Mass., and the Committee selected as his successor Kenneth L. Morse of Abington, Mass., a man of many years' successful experience as a High School principal.

The school savings system continues to prove a valuable asset in teaching thrift to the children,—a total sum of $3,320.22 being deposited in approximately fourteen months, and over 612 individual accounts being opened direct with the bank by the children.

By vote of the Committee, Mr. Hull dissenting, the town will be asked to appropriate the sum of $89,000 for the maintenance of the public schools of Leominster for the year 1915. This sum with the unexpended balance of the year 1914, $472.69, and the estimated income from all other sources amounting to $2200 makes a total available of $91,672.69, or $3,315.18 more than was expended in 1914. This is required by an increase in salaries of approximately $3000; an estimated increase of $600 in text books and supplies; and an expected increase in the cost of fuel owing to the unusually severe and continued cold weather of the present winter.

Report of Superintendent

To the School Committee,
Town of Leominster.
Gentlemen:—

I have the honor of submitting my first annual report and the thirty-second of the series.

As but three months have elapsed since entering on my duties, I shall not attempt to make a comprehensive report. There are, however, some features of the work to which I wish to call attention.

RECENT CHANGES IN TEACHERS

Hardly had my work been fairly started when we were confronted with the resignation of the High School principal, Mr. Edward R. Clarke. As soon as it became known that Mr. Clarke was to leave, we were deluged with applications, more than fifty men applying in person. At the request of the Committee, I spent several days visiting a selected list of candidates. Upon reporting the result of my investigations, Mr. K. L. Morse of Abington was chosen to fill the vacancy.

Following closely the resignation of Mr. Clarke came that of Mr. Alberti Roberts, head of the science department, who accepted the High School principalship at Rockland. In less than a week Mr. M. D. Brock was appointed his successor.

Several vacancies have occurred also in the elementary schools, necessitating the employment of five new teachers during my short term of office.

While it may be a compliment to have our teachers sought for in larger places, yet it is decidedly detrimental to make so many changes during the school year and I trust we may not have a recurrence of the number of resignations in such a short time.

EVENING SCHOOLS

The work of the evening schools is characterized by a spirit of earnestness on the part of teachers and pupils. There are three special features of the work this year to which I wish to allude. First, a class of young men has been organized for practical work in electricity. This is the first industrial course to be given in our night school. The interest shown by these pupils would justify our offering other practical courses, especially in cooking and sewing.

Second, the High School classes in commercial work are composed of ambitious people who welcome this opportunity of obtaining a commercial education. There are four High School graduates in this class and four more who have had the equivalent of a High School course. While the others have not had these advantages, yet they are no less determined.

Third, for the first time advanced classes of Italian-speaking people have been formed for instruction in American history and civics. These pupils are attending the school for the second or third year and have already obtained their first naturalization papers.

I would make two recommendations concerning the evening schools. First, that they open early in October with a term of ten weeks before Christmas and another term of eight weeks beginning in January. Second, that a diploma be awarded those who attend the school four years and complete the work of the eighth grade.

For more detailed information I append the report of the principal:

To Dr. William H. Perry,

Superintendent of Leominster Schools:

The night school term which opened December 8, 1913, had a total enrollment of 375, the largest since the school was established. This splendid enrollment shows the rapid growth of the school. Only six years ago, when I first acted as principal, an enrollment of 150 was considered large, but in 1913-14 our average attendance was 178. It is interesting to compare the figures of enrollment and attendance during the last four years:

Year.	No. enrolled.	Av. attendance.	No. nights.	No. teachers.	Illiterate.
1911	215	95	44	13	140
1912	201	85	48	12	67
1913	216	80	48	12	150
1914	375	178	44	17	243

Nearly every country in Europe is represented in our enrollment. The majority of our pupils speak little or no English when they first attend the school, but the consequent difficulty is soon overcome through their interest and desire to learn the language.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Plans have been considered in several conferences with the principal of the Industrial School and the supervisors of Manual Training and Household Arts, also with Mr. R. O. Small, Deputy Commissioner of Education, having charge of the vocational education in the state, looking to the further development of the work of the Industrial School.

This development may be along one of two different lines. The first would be to make it a state-aided Industrial School.

Here the aim would be to give boys over 14 years of age instruction in vocations requiring skilled labor so that they may enter upon such employment at an advantage over the boys who have not had this instruction and also would furnish a more desirable class of workers for the employer. Schools which meet certain requirements and receive the approval of the Commissioner of Education will have one-half the expense of maintenance paid from the state treasury.

It does not seem feasible just at present to establish this kind of a school at Leominster owing to the limited demand for boys from 14 to 16 in skilled industries and the difficulty in meeting the state requirements.

The aim of the other type of school would not be to secure proficiency in a vocation but to give motor minded boys opportunity to acquire an education through motor activities and also to give them some insight in different kinds of work which may aid them in the subsequent selection of a vocation. To accomplish this a greater variety of industrial work should be offered. The following are suggested as having a practical value:—

First: Wood work

Cabinet making

Wood turning

Pattern making

Second: Concrete work

Making bowls for tabourets, etc.

Third: Electricity

Bell wiring

Telephone wiring

Motor wiring

Fourth: Printing

Made practical by printing forms used in School Department, letter heads, envelopes, etc.

Fifth: Mechanical drawing

The academic work should be planned with reference to the future needs of industrial workers and be closely related to the shop work.

By adopting some of the suggestions outlined above, this school will offer greater advantages to the boys attending it.

THE SCHOOL HOME

The girls of the Industrial School spend one day a week in the School Home where they receive instruction in cooking, sewing and general home work. To make the work more practical, luncheons are prepared for three teachers, who pay 15 cents apiece for them. Two girls are assigned each day to do the marketing and they are required to keep within the limit of the 45 cents at their disposal. Two other girls do the cooking, and others the sewing.

I would suggest that the committee consider using the entire Haynes house another year for the Domestic Science courses. This would enable us to remove all Domestic Science work from the Field Grammar School and make two more rooms available for regular school work.

NINTH GRADE

The increased number of pupils in the High School last fall made it necessary to remove one of the ninth grade classes from the High School building to the Lancaster Street School. The further increase next year will doubtless cause the removal of another ninth grade class. The difficulty in housing these grades which now confronts us brings up the question of discontinuing them altogether.

During the past few years there has been a decided trend toward organizing the elementary schools in this state on a basis of eight grades.

I am informed by the State Department that 28 towns were at one time a little over a year ago contemplating a change from the nine grade basis to the eight grade basis. In making arrangements for the next school year, I would suggest that the Committee consider the advisability of organizing our schools on a basis of eight grades.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANK

The School Savings Bank has been in operation a little over a year, and during that time $3,220.22 has been deposited. Each Monday morning the children bring their savings to the teacher and these are deposited in the Merchants National Bank in the name of the Superintendent of Schools as trustee. As soon as a child has $2.00 in the bank an individual bank book is issued.

The only objection which has been raised to school banks is the amount of work involved on the part of the teachers and the time that is taken from their regular duties. The average amount of time per week which the teachers of our town give to the bank work is twenty-eight minutes. In addition to this, the principals devote some time to entering the amounts received from the various rooms in their buildings.

It would seem that the benefits the children derive from the encouragement in saving are more than commensurate with the time required on the part of the teachers.

Some interesting data is herewith given:—

Total amount deposited to January 5, 1915	$3,220 22
Amount transferred to individual bank books	2,530 00
Amount withdrawn by pupils	86 70
Balance in School Savings Bank, January 5	603 52
Number of individual bank books issued	612
Total number of depositors in School Bank	1144

In closing this report I wish to thank the Committee for the hearty support you have given me and the interest you have shown in every phase of the work. Entering upon my duties as I did after the school year had begun, your assistance and encouragement have been especially appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. PERRY, Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIANS

To the School Committee:

The efforts of the present Medical Inspectors are being continued along the same lines as the past year. The same stringent rules about the return to school of pupils who have been out with contagious disease are being enforced.

The general health of the school children has shown a most excellent average. The total medical summary of absence on account of illness, from all causes, shows 2572 absences last year as compared with 1935 this year.

Colds, as was the case last year, head the list of ailments. An effort is being made to instruct the children as to the contagious character of the so-called common cold. Their attention is being directed to the danger which may come from coughing in each other's faces. It is the purpose of the Inspectors to exclude from school cases of respiratory infection while at the height of the coughing stage. This seems desirable, especially in view of the fact of the close relationship between colds, earache, tonsilitis, laryngitis—often called croup,—bronchitis and pneumonia.

The Inspectors wish at this time to call the attention of the Committee to the urgent need of regular dental inspection in the schools. It is believed that much may be accomplished by this means in the promotion of the health and welfare of the children. It is to be understood, of course, that such inspection should be followed up with dental work as recommended by the Inspectors. Attention is called to the prevalence of digestive disturbance in causing absence from school. This greatly outranks all other causes outside of the contagious. It is the firm belief of the Inspectors that a proportion of such absence would be eliminated by proper dental care.

During the past year regular medical inspection has been carried on at the Night School. The work here has in some cases given a clue as to the possible source of contagion among pupils of the day schools. One of the Inspectors is present at each session of the school and it is found that their presence operates to discourage frequent attempts to be excused on fake illness.

The medical summary for the year is appended:

Report of Overseers of the Poor

On the twenty-ninth of September occurred the death of C. H. Rice, for fifteen years a member of the board and many years its chairman.

Since then the two remaining members have carried on the work and know that all cases called to their attention have been immediately investigated and faithfully attended to.

We submit the following report for the financial year ending December 31, 1914:—

During the year, as in the past, many calls on this department were caused by the desertion of the husband and father, but the number is increasing, and large amounts have been necessary to meet the requirements of many of these calls. The law does not seem to be adequate for such cases.

There have been many calls from people who would not ordinarily ask for assistance. All cases have received prompt attention and the necessary aid rendered.

We have now had the act Chapter 763 of the law of 1913 in force a year and four months and are still unable to state what the beneficent results in the future may be. This act relates to mothers with dependent children under fourteen years of age. Mothers so aided do not become paupers. Ten families with thirty-four children have been aided under this act at an expense of 1,867.30. The state reimburses one-third of this amount. This act requires much attention and frequent visits to the homes of those receiving this aid.

Whole number of families aided, 153, and 540 persons besides the number aided under Chapter 763.

Bills are approved Tuesdays before the first and third Friday of each month. Our unexpended balance Jan. 1, 1914, was $1,564.19 and our appropriation $9,500.00. Owing to our extra efforts in sending out our bills, our reimbursements for October, November and December have been $1,356.32, against $94.84 for the same months of 1913, leaving an unexpended balance of $2,082.85. Deduct from this the difference between the above reimbursements, $1,261.48, and we have $821.37, what our unexpended balance would have been under the same conditions as December 31, 1913. It is obvious that we have expended our appropriation, $9,500.00, and $742.82 of the unexpended balance of January 1, 1914. We therefore recommend an appropriation of $10,000.00 and our unexpended balance for 1915.

The Town Home has been in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hoyt during the year with the same excellent results as in former years. The Board visits the Home each month and oftener if considered necessary. Dr. Chrystal was the town physician to April 1st, and Dr. Blodgett for the remainder of the year. Both have discharged their duties to the satisfaction of the Board.

During the year nineteen inmates—sixteen men and three women—have been accommodated. Several have been discharged. One female was committed to the Worcester State Insane Hospital and one removed to the hospital and is being cared for outside. Number remaining, Jan. 1, 1915, nine males and one female. Oldest 88 and youngest 36.

REPAIRS AT TOWN HOME

Interior painting and papering at a cost of $39.22. The much needed repairs to the roof of the henhouse have been made. A new floor to the horse stable, repairs to the silo, and several new windows have been put into the cow stable at a total cost of $98.26 for carpenter work and $54.06 for lumber, besides lumber from the farm prepared by the warden.

THE HERD

The herd consists of the registered bull, King Huntress, nineteen milch cows, thirteen heifers and three calves. Although the production of milk has exceeded that of 1913, not a cow has been bought during the year. We believe in raising our own cows and think that some registered heifers should be bought and a start made for a thoroughbred herd.

The horses are the same as last year.

You will notice that we have used the word "Home" instead of "Farm" and we recommend that this change in the name be made.

Report of Inspector of Wires

For the Financial Year ending December 31, 1914.

To the Selectmen of the Town of Leominster:

Gentlemen: I submit the following report as Inspector of Wires and Superintendent of Fire Alarm:—

The total number of new electrical installations and additions to wiring systems in buildings that have been inspected is as follows:

Total number of buildings in which wires were installed	199
Total number of incandescent lights wired for	2348
Total number of horsepower in motors installed	101

There has been the usual amount of repair and construction work during the year; have replaced three miles of old wire with new, and installed two new fire alarm boxes and replaced five old ones with new boxes as voted by the town.

During the year just closed there has been some trouble with the working of the alarm caused by the extreme weather conditions, but at the present time it is in good working order.

Report of Inspector of Buildings

To the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Leominster:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit the annual report of the Inspector of Buildings for the year ending Dec. 31, 1914:

Whole number of permits issued, 110. New buildings, 78; alterations and repairs, 32.

Permits for new dwellings	47	Estimated cost	$110,000 00
Alterations and repairs	36	" "	18,080 00
Garages	11	" "	2,735 00

Poultry houses	5	" "	340 00
<hr/>		<hr/>
Total	110	" "	$138,175 00

Average cost of dwellings, about $2,340.

The total estimated value of all building operations for the year was about $2,000 less than last year and, while the dwellings built were mostly small and inexpensive, they were quite substantially built and of a pleasing and attractive appearance. The prevailing plan seemed to be the bungalow style of architecture.

My experience as Inspector of Buildings for the two and one-half years that I have served in that capacity has persuaded me that the present methods of conducting this department are unsatisfactory to all concerned. The people, and those engaged in building operations, owing, in my opinion, to the conditions that have resulted from these methods, fail to give it the serious consideration it deserves.

Some of us have felt that the remedy, to a large degree, might be found in a new, revised, and more complete code of building laws and regulations. Such a code of building laws has been prepared which change, rectify and supply certain things indefinite and wanting in the present building laws. These new regulations have been undergoing a process of change, amendment and general examination by the town solicitor, and he now informs me that they are all complete and ready for adoption at the annual town meeting in March, and I presume they will be adopted at that time.

Under these new rules, certain hazardous fire traps within the fire limit, which these laws prescribe for, can be attended to and possibly eliminated. To require and enforce a more strict compliance with these by-laws ought to and will require much more time than has ever been put into this work.

This year a new duty has been put upon the Building Inspector. He is now required to inspect all elevators within the limits of the town and to determine the changes and additions necessary to make them conform to a new set of rules and regulations prepared in accordance with a law passed by the Legislature of 1913.

The elevator inspection requires a good deal of time as well as a good deal of expert knowledge which can only be acquired by a good deal of study and experience. A knowledge of elevator construction and the operating machinery is necessary in order to be able to make the required tests as to the safe operation of the elevator.

There is much writing in connection with the work. A lengthy report of each elevator inspected is required by the state police. Unsafe elevators, when found, are to be posted with a legal form of notice of its condition, similar notices to be posted (of approval) when found to conform to the regulations, and a record of the same kept in the office of the inspector.

All of which will require considerable printed matter in the form of blanks and a good deal of time and labor for some one. If the work is to be properly done, if it is thought necessary to do the work at all, sufficient time and attention ought to be given to it, that it may be done thoroughly and well.

I wish to call to the attention of your honorable Board the necessity, as it seems to me, of requiring the Inspector of Buildings to devote all his time to this work, the same as the other inspectors—of plumbing, wires, etc.

As the law requires that the superintendent of buildings, or some other officer, shall be designated as inspector of buildings, I would suggest that a superintendent of public buildings be appointed, and this official be designated Inspector of Buildings, thereby complying with the statutes and giving legal authority to the Inspector.

The duty of this position I think would require the undivided attention and services of any one competent to perform it. No doubt much might be said, pro and con, upon this question, but I will conclude by simply saying that in view of the facts and conditions as I find them I think the time has arrived when the Inspector of Buildings should be paid a yearly salary and devote the time to it that the importance of the work demands.

Respectfully submitted,

E. R. STUART, Inspector of Buildings.

The work of this Board the past year has steadily increased over the previous years.

It is a noticeable fact that each year the public rely more and more on this Board to relieve and remedy conditions which pertain to the province of the health department, and it is with the thorough co-operation of the public that the best results are obtained.

The regular meetings of this Board are held each Monday night at 8:30 o'clock. A majority of the Board is also present on Wednesday and Saturday evenings. The agent of the Board has also regular office hours daily from 9 to 10 A. M. and 1 to 2 P. M.

CONSUMPTION

Twenty-one cases of tuberculosis have been reported in the year 1914.

As it is a well-known fact at the present time that this is an extremely contagious disease, it is incumbent on not only the boards of health, but the laity as well, to do all within their power to prevent the spread of this much dreaded disease.

While a bacteriological examination of the sputum in the majority of cases reveals the presence of the bacilli, yet they are absent in other cases. This may sometimes be due to the fact that the secretion obtained may be simply the saliva and not from the lungs or bronchial tubes. Physicians are urged to explain this point to their patients.

Too much emphasis cannot be laid on the necessity of calling in the family physician in the early stages of the disease, i. e., whenever a persistent cough continues, and especially when accompanied by a loss of strength, appetite and color. It is imperative that physicians report every case that they are called to treat as soon as they have made their diagnosis, regardless of the fact that it may have been reported by some other physician who has been in attendance on the same case.

As many of these cases have to be cared for by this Board, either at home or put on the waiting list for some sanitarium, and as some of these cases may belong to the state or have residence in some other town or city, the sooner the cases are reported the sooner can the proper measures be taken which each case demands.

While it is quite evident that the necessity of properly caring for these cases is much better recognized by the laity than formerly, there is yet much that can be done to lessen the danger to others who are obliged to come in contact with them.

This Board expects very shortly to be able to open a tuberculosis clinic, as soon as we remove into the new quarters in the municipal building, which is nearly completed.

DIPHTHERIA

One hundred and seventeen cases have been reported this year, two more than the previous year.

There is no question but that the common carrier is responsible each year for these epidemics. Too much stress cannot be laid on the extreme necessity of calling in a physician in every case where there is a sore throat.

If the laity would recognize and remember the fact that it is not always necessary to be able to see a white patch or a membrane in the throat, and that a throat which is only slightly red, with or without any soreness, may have the germs of diphtheria present, and that such throats may carry a malignant case to some one else who may be susceptible to this disease, and have such throats seen to at once by a physician, there would undoubtedly be fewer cases to report.

Once more would this Board emphasize the urgent necessity of a strict compliance with the rules and regulations governing these cases, a copy of which is left with each family in which such case is reported.

Only by a strict observance of the rules which govern these cases can a proper quarantine be maintained. This Board would also urge upon the laity the need of allowing the physician in charge to use antitoxine whenever it is, in his judgment, called for.

CHICKEN POX

One hundred and three cases have been reported.

While strict quarantine is not insisted on in this disease, it is strongly urged that those who have chicken pox be kept apart from other children in the family as well as from those outside of the family. It is also absolutely necessary that every case be reported to this Board by the family where a physician is not called in to see the case. In this way, by keeping these cases apart from others, an epidemic might be prevented and fewer be obliged to remain away from school for a limited time.

SCARLET FEVER

Thirty-three cases have been reported.

This Board wishes to emphasize more strongly the need of a stricter observance of the rules pertaining to this disease. We feel that, in some cases, too little attention is paid to these rules and thus others are needlessly exposed. It should also be remembered that the sending of mail from the houses quarantined with this disease is strictly prohibited.

TYPHOID FEVER

Twelve cases of typhoid fever have been reported. These cases occurred between October 6th and 31st.

All of these cases were confined to a limited area in the east side of the town, five being inmates of the convent. The remaining seven cases were in five families and were taken sick within a few days of each other. These facts suggested a common source of infection and an investigation of the milk supply showed that all these cases received their milk entirely or in part from the same milk dealer. Suspicion was therefore directed to that supply as the probable source of the infection.

An examination of the premises of this dealer, and of all the people who handled this milk, revealed the fact that a son of the dealer who had been in Montreal during the summer had returned here on September 12th. He gave a history of having been ill for five or six weeks prior to his coming here. Two positive Widals were obtained from his blood.

Although bile cultures from his stools were negative, it is highly probable from the positive Widals that his recent illness was typhoid fever and that he was the source of the infection, notwithstanding the fact that he denied having anything whatever to do with the milk, the cans, or any of the utensils which were used.

He was removed to another part of the town, away from all milk sources, and a thorough sterilization of all the milk utensils was enjoined and a general cleaning up of the entire premises. These measures were willingly and faithfully carried out by the milk dealer and no other cases appeared.

There were two deaths which occurred, one due directly to the typhoid and the other to a heart failure during convalescence, caused by the disease.

Not for many years has a case of typhoid occurred in this town which has been traced to any cause within the town limits, but the cause has been traced to conditions outside of the town.

MEASLES AND WHOOPING COUGH

Twenty-nine cases of the former and 25 cases of the latter have been reported.

We would here again remind the public that these diseases, including German measles, must be reported to this Board by the family when a physician is not employed.

BAKERIES

The usual inspection of the six bakeries has been made and most of them have been found in good condition. In those cases where it was found necessary to offer any suggestions we found the owners ready to receive such suggestions and willing to comply with them.

NUISANCES

Many cases of nuisances have been reported. These are all carefully investigated by the agent of this Board and ordered abated.

Several cases have occurred where dead fowls have been thrown upon the street or into some neighbor's yard, and cats and dogs have been thrown into some of the ponds in town. It is usually impossible to ascertain who is responsible for these acts, or to whom they belong, as all marks of ownership have been previously removed.

This is a violation of the law and we wish to emphasize the fact that whenever the owner can be ascertained he will be dealt with as the law directs.

The keeping of fowls becomes a nuisance whenever they are not properly cared for by their owners and kept at home and under proper restraint, not allowed to roam at large and upon their neighbors' premises. Many complaints regarding fowls have been brought in to this Board the past year.

The keeping of pigs also becomes a nuisance when too many are kept in the center of the town and in close proximity to other occupied places.

This Board intends soon to compile a set of rules which will pertain to the fowl and pig nuisance and thus lessen the number of complaints which yearly are brought to our attention.

Many complaints at various times have been brought to this Board of a nuisance caused by a large piggery where several hundred hogs and pigs are kept, and though somewhat removed from the center and the residential part of the town, it was deemed advisable to order it removed outside the town limits. To accomplish this, however, it became necessary to resort to legal measures and to bring the owner into court. This brought about the desired result and the piggery was removed to some other town.

COLLECTION OF HOUSE OFFAL

This work has been attended to by the same party as in the past four years and with a minimum number of complaints. If the householders would more carefully read and follow out the instructions given them in the rules governing these collections, a copy of which is left with each family, there would be but few complaints made. On a careful examination made by this Board, it has been found that the fault was, in the majority of cases, due to the fact that the rules had not been carefully complied with.

APPROPRIATION

While last year this Board exceeded its appropriation, caused by the presence of a few cases of smallpox, this year we have kept within the amount asked for.

The care of tuberculosis patients at the various sanatoria, and of several cases of contagious diseases at some of the hospitals in the state, is a large item in the expenditure of the money given us.

When we, however, consider that those patients who are at the various institutions give security from exposure to many others it may be considered that the money thus used is well expended for the protection of the public at large and perhaps economy for the town in the long run.

PUBLIC URINAL

The need for a public urinal still exists and nothing has as yet been done by the town toward installing one. It is hoped, however, that with the removal of the town offices to the new municipal building some arrangement can be made whereby such a sanitary station can be installed.

SPECIAL COMPLAINT

The attention of this Board was called several times this year to the conditions existing at the old town barn, which is located on Church street only a few steps from the center of the town. Examination of the premises revealed the fact that these complaints were well founded. Suggestions were made by this Board regarding a temporary cleaning up of the place for the winter. It will, however, be necessary for the town this spring to either remove this building to some other street or to connect it with the sewer. These are the only two remedies available to relieve the condition which there exists.

REPORT OF BACTERIOLOGIST

Leominster, Mass., Jan. 1, 1915.

Board of Health of Leominster, Mass.

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor of submitting to you my tenth annual report, for the year ending December 31, 1914.

Because of lack of knowledge that prevails to some extent, I am prompted to make a statement relative to diphtheria and the use of antitoxin. Notwithstanding the fact that by the use of antitoxin the death rate from diphtheria has been reduced from about twenty-seven per cent. to about four per cent., there still remains an unwarranted prejudice against its use. As the most obvious effect of this disease is found in the throat and nose, it is the general belief that the danger is local rather than systemic. Physicians know otherwise. The diphtheria bacilli may grow on any mucus surface, but the favorite site is in the throat and nose. A more or less profuse exudation takes place, forming what is known as the "membrane," accompanied with soreness. By the growth of the bacilli, a poison or toxin is produced that is absorbed into the system, causing fever and the other disturbances that accompany the disease. This is due to a true blood poisoning. The toxin is a powerful heart depressant, and death is most commonly due to this action. Persons who recover from the disease are frequently left with a weak heart, and death may occur from this cause after recovery from the local disease.

While toxins are being formed by the growth of the bacilli, nature in her endeavor to combat the disease is producing what we call antitoxin, the function of which is to counteract the effect of the toxin or poison. If enough antitoxin is produced to offset the action of the toxin, the patient recovers, otherwise he does not. No one can recover without this sufficient amount of antitoxin, either produced in the system or artificially introduced. When introduced artificially, nature is assisted to just that extent, and the chances of recovery are increased to just that extent. As stated, death sometimes occurs from heart failure, after apparent recovery, and to the minds of uninformed persons this is due to the antitoxin given. Is it reasonable to say that nature's own remedy for the disease is the cause of death? Physicians know that it is not.

There is another beneficial effect of antitoxin. Before its discovery there was rarely a "mild" case of diphtheria. All cases were severe and it was one of the most dreaded diseases. The bacilli pass from one person to another, and during the years since antitoxin has been in use they have passed from person to person who have been treated with artificially made antitoxin, with the result that the virulence of the bacilli is being gradually but surely reduced, till now there are many "mild" cases of the disease.

A cause of some complaint is that persons are at times quarantined when they are not ill. These are known as "carrier?" cases. The bacilli are lodged in the throat and often grow in great abundance without causing a membrane to form, or any of the usual symptoms of diphtheria. For some unknown reason these persons are immune from the disease, just as some are immune from ivy poison. The difficulty is that these same bacilli may be transferred to another person and produce the disease with all of its symptoms. It is also unfortunately true that in such cases it is most difficult to rid the throat of the bacilli, and a long quarantine period is necessary. I may add that the strain of bacilli that is prevalent all over the state this year is unusually persistent, and the quarantine period in most cases has been quite extended.
